

Service Engineer Job Ref:TL104

TE Laboratories Ltd (TelLab)

TelLab is a chemistry company based in Tullow Co Carlow. It is a multi-divisional company and is active in Irish/UK and European marketplace. Operations are conducted from a new purpose built laboratory complex which includes an environmental, R&D and an oil and fuel testing laboratories. Production facilities/ laboratories also exist for the manufacturing of chemical reagents and standards.

Specialties:

Environmental analysis, Lubricating and transformer Oil analysis, Fuel analysis, Marker Dye Production, Custom Laboratory analysis, Laboratory Chemicals and Reagents, Environmental Research and Development, FP7, H2020 and other International Collaborative projects.

Overview

The successful candidate will be responsible for the collection of samples from sites such as Landfills, Quarries, IPPC, Construction sites, Local Authorities etc. liaising with the Sales Dept, and Laboratory in respect of samples. The successful candidate will ideally have experience in a similar role.

Responsibilities:

- Collection of ground water, surface water, and Trade effluents samples from site.
- Recording on site measurements from sites such as Landfills, IPPC, Quarries and Industrial sites.
- Transport and preservation of samples back to the Laboratory.
- Provision and updating chain of custody to Lab administration.
- Liaising with the Sales Dept. and the Laboratory to ensure Customers requirements are being met.
- Trouble shooting any problems and queries either with Sales or the Laboratory or externally with Customers.

Essential skills:

- Highly organized with the ability to work on own initiative.
- Good attention to detail, problem solver, and good time management.
- Excellent communications skills (written and oral) and presentation skills.
- Degree in Environmental Science is not essential but would be an advantage.

Benefits

- Competitive Salary plus Bonus potential
- Company vehicle & fuel card.
- Mobile phone and lap-top.